SNOW
TROUBLE:

Card-Jitsu EXPERT GUIDE!

To win at Card-Jitsu Snow, learn the strengths and weaknesses of the elements, and know your foes!

Water Ninjas

The flowing river is slow, but mighty

Although slow to reach battle, water ninjas' powerful hammer attack can turn a grownman into powder in no time. Water ninjas can take more damage than other elements, so they are good for close-up battles.

Fire Ninjas

Fire moves like the wind and is too hot to handle

Snow Ninjas

A blizzard of snow can overcome any foe

Snow ninjas are the fastest of the three elements, and they have the ability to heal their teammates. Keep them safe because they can take the least damage. Use them to attack from a distance.

Know your foes!

Tank

This hulking brute is strong but slow. Snow and Fire Ninja can dodge his attacks. Be wary of a one swing of his escape attack that will injure all once.

Tip:
Dodge his escape attack to bring him down for damage.

Scrap

Scrap carries a tennis racket into battle and his snowballs can hit a group of ninjas at once.

Tip:
Spring out and hit his snowballs with a fire damage.

Sly

Sly is fast and cunning. He loves to break past you and attack with his snow bowling ball - he can throw it really far too.

Tip:
Break his snowball to reduce his damage or close range.

POWER CARDS

Every ninja holds within them great energy. Use power cards to unleash these abilities on the battlefield!

Using power cards can turn the tide of battle!

POWER CARDS

trio of mighty fish and do double damage! or hit, summon a scorching hot sauce bottle that makes opponents miss a turn, and Snow ninjas can heal all of their allies including themselves!

Combo Attacks

When two or more ninjas use the same card on the same turn, they get extra effects:

Water cards grant everyone bonus damage on the next attack

Fire cards damage opponents over several turns

give each ninja

an icy protective shield

Fallen Allies

If a penguin falls during battle, all is not lost. Move next to them and click you - spend a turn digging them out of the snow and then they will be ready to join in again!
